

Resource on IP other than China or Japan

From: Joseph Trimble

Sent: Friday, April 24, 2020 12:52 PM

Good morning Larry. Great question. Right now none come to mind but I'm reasonably certain there are some that may be value for you.

As you can see I included Louise Sundararajan in on this note and she may forward your request to our worldwide listserv on indigenous psychology. For an article on the topic please see: <https://www.apa.org/international/pi/2013/12/reflections>.

Keep well and safe.

--Joseph

From: Anand Paranjpe

Sent: Friday, April 24, 2020 3:08 PM

Hello Louise and colleagues:

In response to Prof. Trimble's request for theories on various issues in psychology including personality, I am attaching a list of publications from the Indian background.

Actually there is lot more; I have listed what quickly comes to mind.

Some examples of theories originated from outside of US, Europe, China and Japan.pdf

--Anand Paranjpe

Simon Fraser University, Canada

From: Jeff King

Sent: Friday, April 24, 2020 5:01 PM

This is awesome Anand! Thank you!

Jeff King

Jeff King, PhD

Professor

Western Washington University

516 High St

Bellingham, WA 98226

360-650-3574
