

Chinpang Leung, MBA

PhD Student

Fuller Graduate School of Psychology

acpleung@gmail.com

Bio:

Chinpang Leung (CP) is currently a fourth year PhD Student at Fuller Graduate School of Psychology. His research and clinical interests are in cultural psychology, indigenous psychology, and psychology of religion. CP is a speaker of a Cantonese Radio program (AM1430) in Los Angeles, California, providing counseling / consultation. He is also an adjunct lecturer at Bethel Bible Seminary (Hong Kong), teaching pastoral counseling. Prior to studying at Fuller, he was a marriage and family therapist (MFT) in Hong Kong providing couple counseling and family therapy in several major community centers. CP obtained MA in psychology, and a master degree of MFT.

Before switching to mental health field, CP worked for a multinational (US-headquartered) telecommunication corporation for 20 years. He was a group director of product engineering groups, managing the product operations in Asia Pacific, Central and East Europe, and Middle East and Africa. He obtained degrees of Executive MBA and B.Sc. from Chinese University of Hong Kong.

CP has a wife and two children. His wife is passionate about arts education for children. Before coming to US, she was an assistant curator of Hong Kong Art Museum, and owned an art studio in Hong Kong to promote creativity through various art activities.