

APA Symposium: Towards a Border-crossing Model of Culture: Insights from Indigenous Psychology (Session ID: 501)

From: Rachel Ting \(via iptaskforce list\)

Sent: Thursday, August 12, 2021 10:28 PM

To: M Hall - breathepeacefully at me.com

Subject: APA Symposium: Towards a Border-crossing Model of Culture: Insights From Indigenous Psychology (Session ID: 501)

Dear All,

Just want to share with you another symposium we have prepared for this year's APA convention under Div 32:

Towards a Border-crossing Model of Culture: Insights From Indigenous Psychology (Session ID: 501)

60 minutes / Co-listing Divisions: 8, 17, 24, 26, 27, 41, 52

Chair: Louise K.W. Sundararajan, PhD, EdD, Independent Researcher, Rochester, NY

Presenters:

Rachel Sing-Kiat Ting, PhD, Monash University Malaysia, Selangor, Malaysia

Co-Author: Justine J.A Thong, MA, Monash University Malaysia, Selangor, Malaysia

Title: Religious Diversity Among Indigenous People (Temiar) of Malaysia

Richard Katz, PhD, First Nations University of Canada, Saskatoon, SK, Canada

Title: Indigenous Pathways Toward Teaching a More Just and Equitable Psychology

Discussant: Louise K.W. Sundararajan, PhD, EdD, Independent Researcher, Rochester, NY

Most importantly, Louise and I have spared 60 mins on Aug 14th (Sat) 9am-10am (New York Time zone) to have a closer dialogue with the conference attendees regarding this symposium during our Office Hour. If you are attending, hope to see you on the virtual platform tomorrow!

(You can view the program for all Division 32 programs here: <https://www.apadivisions.org/division-32/news-events/div-32-apa-2021>. )

Regards,

-Rachel Ting