

Assistant Professor, Indigenous Studies in the Americas

New York University: NYU - NY: Gallatin School of Individualized Study

Location

New York

Open Date

Sep 1, 2021

Application Instructions

Applicants are required to submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a writing sample, and the contact information for three academic references. The letter of application should include the names of at least two potential courses they may teach. Applicants also should include a one page statement of their commitment and relationship to Indigenous communities in teaching, mentorship, and practice. Additional materials including writing sample, teaching statements, sample syllabi, and recommendation letters will be solicited at later stages of the search process.

We encourage submission of applications by October 18th; we will begin reviewing applications that week and will finalize our interview list soon after.

For questions, please contact Gallatin's Office of Human Resources at gallatin.hr@nyu.edu.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/93607>