Hello everyone,

The outbreak of the COVID-19 disease has posed great challenges to the worldwide economy and people’s daily lives and will have far-reaching consequences beyond the spread of the disease. At the same time, crisis is also a strong driver of creativity and innovation.

Two leading creativity and innovation researchers and I are hosting a special issue in the Frontiers in Psychology on the topic „Creativity and Innovation in Times of Crisis (COVID-19)“ to investigate the effect of the COVID-19 crisis on creativity and innovation and vice versa – the role of creativity and innovation in the fight against COVID-19, as well as their relationship to resilience and coping.

This special issue gives preference to empirical studies but is also open to relevant theoretical works. We welcome contributions from different disciplines and cultures as well as studies adopting multidisciplinary approaches.
