

APA 2021 -- Call for Proposals (including info re: individual paper submissions)

From: Snjezana Huerta

Sent: Sunday, November 08, 2020 11:29 PM

The Call for Proposals for APA's 2021 Convention (Aug. 12-15, 2021) has been posted; please see their website (<https://convention.apa.org/proposals>) for more details.

Note: The website includes a list of issues they will highlight in their curated program.

As announced on the APA website, the conference program will be, once again, offered in a virtual format (i.e., all accepted presentations will need to be recorded and posted in advance). Additionally, the Divisions' Convention Chairs have been asked to prepare for in-person participation (i.e., in San Diego, CA) to complement the virtual program; however, the in-person component might be cancelled (a decision is expected in April, 2021).

Please note:

Collaborative Proposals are Due on Dec. 7, 2020, at 17:00 E.S.T.

<https://convention.apa.org/proposals/collaborative-programs>

As noted on their website, APA is encouraging collaborative proposals that feature a diverse panel, whose members address a cross-cutting topic, ideally incorporating innovative elements. I will circulate collaboration inquiries from other divisions as I receive them. If you are interested in developing a collaborative proposal that you would like circulated to other divisions on your behalf, please feel free to contact Snjezana.Huerta@gmail.com.

Divisional Proposals are Due on Jan. 12, 2021, at 17:00 E.S.T.

<https://convention.apa.org/proposals/division-programs>

Submit proposals for symposia, workshops, discussions, skill-building sessions, and posters using the APA portal by the deadline.

Submit proposals for individual presentations, using the attached form, to Snjezana.Huerta@gmail.com by the Jan. 12 deadline listed above. [These proposals will be reviewed (as will the proposals submitted using the APA portal). Accepted submissions will be grouped into paper symposia by the APA Convention Program Committee.]

If you are interested in presenting in the hospitality suite (i.e., if the 2021 Convention has an in-person component), please submit a proposal to Snjezana.Huerta@gmail.com by Jan. 12.

Div. 24's 2020-2021 Presidential Theme:

An Ethical Call to Compassion and Action: Addressing Theory and Philosophy to Social and Environmental Justice.

[A more-detailed treatment of the 2021 presidential theme will appear in STPP's Fall newsletter.]

Please feel free to contact Snjezana if you have any questions regarding submitting your proposal.

Our very best regards,

Snjezana Huerta, Erin Thrift, Joe Ostenson
APA Convention 2021 Program Committee